Description

This VB-300 415V powered vertical bandsaw has been built with a robust steel frame, so the rigidity is maintained whilst cutting. The variable blade speed control is located on the front lower panel and easily changed with just a turn of the dial, allowing you to handle the toughest cutting jobs. The extra generous large table tilts left to right side and front to back, allowing the operator to cut angles up to 15° or adjust the table to achieve the squarest cuts possible. The durable cast-iron table provides a solid, vibration-free table area that will last for many years to come.

This all-in-one bandsaw package also has a built-in blade shear, welding station, grinder, swarf air blower and light, so you can weld your own blades and save you valuable money. Having your own blade welding station also allows you to achieve inside cuts by welding the blade inside your workpiece and then place the blade onto the machine.
